

6 FAH-6 H-700 ACQUISITION CAREER MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM

6 FAH-6 H-710 GENERAL

(TL:AQM-1; 11-20-2003)
(Office of Origin: A/OPE)

6 FAH-6 H-711 BACKGROUND

(TL:AQM-1; 11-20-2003)

a. The Federal Acquisition Reform Act and OFPP Policy Letter 92-3, paragraph 4d, require Federal agencies to have a system for certifying and reporting the completion of all required courses and on-the-job training. Certification is discussed in 6 FAH-6 H-335. The General Services Administration (GSA) is implementing a U.S. Government-wide, web-based system for tracking acquisition training completed. The Acquisition Career Management Information System (ACMIS) will provide the required reporting system for domestic contracting personnel; information on training completed by contracting personnel abroad is available from FSI/NFATC and from posts when submitting requests for contracting officer appointments (see 6 FAH-6 H-500).

b. Until such time as ACMIS is available, existing systems of tracking training should be continued.

6 FAH-6 H-712 PURPOSE

(TL:AQM-1; 11-20-2003)

When the Acquisition Career Management Information System (ACMIS) is available, it will be used by both the heads of contracting activities (HCAs) and the Procurement Executive to:

- (1) Profile the Department's Acquisition workforce;
- (2) Help determine current and future training requirements for contracting personnel;

(3) Assist in determining qualifications for issuance of contracting officer warrants;

(4) Monitor individual career development plans;

(5) Assess program effectiveness in achieving compliance with the training requirements of this handbook, the Federal Acquisition Reform Act (FARA), Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) 1.603-1, and Office of Federal Procurement Policy (OFPP) Policy Letters 92-3 and 97-01; and

(6) Help ensure that proper recognition is given to contracting personnel for performance.
